

Pactum Factum Publishing Submission Guidelines

Pactum Factum Press is a philanthropic, social impact, and educational publishing imprint since 2022. PFP accepts queries from independent authors with a message on bridging equity gaps, addressing social or climate justice, and featuring underrepresented topics and figures that merit attention or reexamination. We are especially excited to discover new authors and voices that question the status quo while offering paths forward. We consider both fiction and non-fiction submissions.

We do NOT accept: Poetry, short stories, screenplays, or works that are already self-published.
